

Designed for performance. Made with pride.

Built by STEMCO.

Some companies buy components from other companies and just put their own label on them. That's not us. We value the importance of roadway safety too much to rely on the workmanship of anyone but our employees. From our brake drums manufactured in Chattanooga, TN to our wheel seals, made in Longview, TX to the air springs coming out of San Luis Potosi, Mexico to the friction and brake shoes assembled into wheel kits, made in Rome, GA and our king pins from Millington, MI, we make the products we sell, and we make them with pride.
